BOMBAY STRIKERS' RIOT OUTLOOK SERIOUS.

LONDON, February 1.
A Bombay telegram dated January 20, states the cotton workers' strike took an ugly turn today when a mob of strikers began looting. The military were ordered to fire and one person was killed and five wounded. Quiet has been restored and all shops in the mill district are closed. The strike is spreading, ten thousand dock workers having joined the movement. The outlook is regarded as serious.

AN EARTHQUAKE.

SEATTLE, Jan. 25.
Three distinct earthquake shocks were felt at 11.08 last night at Bellingham. Windows were broken and brickwalls cracked. At Vancouver, Victoria, and other cities in British Columbia, the earthquake was also felt.

EXTREMISTS IN AMERICA.

THE RECENT ROUND-UP.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.
President Wilson and the Secretary for Labour have decided that the communist party in America is a revolutionary party within the meaning of the American deportation law, therefore have approved the order for deporting to Austria the alien named Preiss. The disposal of cases against a large number of aliens arrested during the recent roundup of extremists, have been upheld pending this decision.

AGAINST INTERVENTION IN RUSSIA.

LONDON, January 29.
The papers publish a manifesto signed by prominent trade unionist and labourites, including Messrs. Bowerman and Cynes, urging for immediate and complete peace with soviet Russia. It declares that the signatories will do their best to oppose Britain's entrance into any war against the Bolsheviks. They do not believe the labour party if it comes into power, will regard itself bound by military commitments made secretly.

CAIRO BOMB OUTRAGE.

CAIRO, January 28.
A man posing as a photographer threw a bomb at a motorcar containing Sirry Pasha, the Minister of Public Works. The Minister was unhurt, but the car was shattered. The assailant was not caught.

AUTHORITIES SHOULD NOT HAVE IT BOTH WAYS.

When a Chinese was this morning charged before Mr. Wood with hawking medicine in Yaumati without a licence, he denied that he was hawking, but said that he was treating a patient and took the medicine to the man. The Police said the defendant was seen receiving 20 cents. He admitted this, but said that it was in the nature of a commission money to cover his ferry expenses to and from Yaumati. His Worship said he thought the defendant should have a licence, and remanded the case for a week in order that he should get one. The defendant said as he did not have an old licence, he could not get one. He had tried but failed. Sgt. Ogg said there was quite a lot of difficulty to get hawker's licences. His Worship repeated that he thought the defendant should have one, and the sergeant promised to look into the matter and see if he could not get the defendant one.

BISHOP LANDER RESIGNS.

The February "Church Notes" report the resignation of the Hongkong Anglican Bishop. On exchange, Bishop Lander's actual income has worked out at less than $300 a month. As "Church Notes" says, "This is certainly not enough to support a Bishop," etc. "We church people of Hongkong can hardly expect to find a Bishop willing to pay out of his own pocket for the privilege of being our Bishop, and if we are anxious to have a Bishop here something will have to be done to provide him with a living wage, and a suitable house." It is mentioned that the organist, Mr. Denman Fuller, is turning. A special vote of thanks is recorded to Mr. J. W. White, who acted in Mr. Fuller's absence.

A thick fog overhung the Harbour early this morning, rendering navigation somewhat hazardous and launches and other craft had to creep about at quarter speed to the accompaniment of incessant blasts from sirens.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE AND AVIATION.

LONDON, January 27th.
The Times, in the course of a leader pointing out the great part aviation must play in the future of the Empire, says:—
To us more, perhaps, than to any other nation the proper use of the aeroplane for peaceful ends is of most vital importance for communication with the outlying parts of the Empire and with India, Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. It would be difficult to overestimate the importance of the possibilities that would be opened up by Empire air routes already surveyed, such as that from Cairo to the Cape, and others still to be organized. There is a vast amount of pioneer work to be done before these routes can be open to ordinary civilians, passengers, to statesmen, merchants and commercial travellers to whom time is an urgent factor; but difficult and dangerous as the work is bound to be, it must and will be done, for within the Empire nothing else, not even the personal magnetism of the Prince of Wales, will prove more valuable as an instrument not only for the annihilation of time and space, but for drawing ever closer the ties of sympathy and mutual understanding which bind together the Mother Country and the Dominions.

LONDON TO THE CAPE BY AEROPLANE.

LONDON, January 28th.
Attempts are now being made to carry out a flight from London to the Cape via Cairo. The first machine, Vickers-Vimpy, has reached the south of France and is proceeding to Egypt. The second, an Airco, starts immediately, while a third, manned by South Africans, will probably leave next week.

The influenza epidemic in New York, and Chicago continues to increase, but the mortality rate is low. There were 3,664 new cases and 57 deaths in New York yesterday; and 1,378 cases and 93 deaths in Chicago. There were also 115 deaths from pneumonia in New York and 91 in Chicago.

THE BOLSHEVIES AND THE ENTENTE.

LONDON, January 30th.

WIRELESS COMMUNICATIONS FROM PLANET 1.

LONDON, January 27th.
Signor Marconi describes in the Daily Mail an extraordinary series of sounds picked up by wireless throughout the world. He thinks it possible that they may emanate from another planet. SCIENTISTS SCEPTICAL.
LONDON, January 28th.
Scientists are sceptical regarding the suggestion of the Daily Mail that other planets are attempting to communicate with the Earth by wireless. They generally attribute the mysterious sounds to solar magnetic disturbances.

P. & O. BANKING CORPORATION.

LONDON, January 29th.
It is authoritatively announced that the prospectus of the Peninsular and Oriental Banking Corporation, of which Lord Inchcape will be Chairman, has been postponed until April at the request of Mr. Chamberlain (Chancellor of the Exchequer) that no issues should be held over until the Government Bonds are out of the way.
The Peninsular and Oriental Company and also Lloyd's, the London County and Westminster, and the National Provincial Banks are participating in the issue, with a certain preference in favour of stockholders of the first-named company. The lead office will be London. It is intended to gradually open business at ports where the P. & O. Company and its allies operate in the East and Australia, and elsewhere. The authorized capital will be £5,000,000, and £2,000,000 will be paid up. The bank will offer increased facilities for British trade all over the world.

FILM LASSITUDE.

De Cinema Induce Languor?

Do constant visits to cinemas induce lassitude? This question is provoked by the fact that some people complain that after a visit to "the pictures" a weary languid feeling takes possession of them, with a severe headache. The probable explanation is that the cinema is really a test of one's health. When a person is run-down or aemic, a visit to "the pictures" produces the symptoms mentioned. In such cases the hint should be taken promptly, and measures adopted for building up the health to normal.
Some interesting facts have been related concerning a young woman engaged in the film industry as "examiner."
An exacting duty in the manufacture of films. To undertake this work necessitates an individual being in the best of health.
This is the view of Miss E. Langton, of 55, Albany Street, Regent's Park, London, who is employed as a film
examiner by a London company.
Through suffering severely from lassitude
and general debility she found her work difficult to carry on, and has been compelled at different periods to stay away from business. Now she has completely recovered, thanks to the curative powers of Dr. Williams' pink pills. "When about 19 years of age I became very aemic. I took many different kinds of medicine but no good resulted."
"This went on for a long time, and I found it almost impossible to cope with my work as a film examiner. I felt unhappy, helpless and irritable, work was a trouble, and I had to stay at home sick many times."
"I never wanted to sleep, or indeed to get up in the morning. Through the day I was always tired, and my limbs ached all day long. Time after time I was under the care of doctors, but they seemed unable to make me well."
"One day I met a friend, who has suffered as I was then suffering, and she told me of the wonderful benefits she had derived from Dr. Williams' pink pills.
She advised me to try them at once. I purchased a supply and at the end of the first week I found myself improving in health. As I persevered with the pills my tiredness disappeared, my appetite became better, and in the mornings I got out of bed feeling quite fresh. I found my work less arduous during the day, and at night I was able to sleep
well."

"Now I feel ten times better than I did a little while ago. I feel quite a different woman altogether."
"I heartily recommend anyone suffering from general debility, aemic, and similar ailments to try Dr. Williams' pink pills: they are really wonderful."

If you are suffering from impoverished blood you cannot afford to wait another day before trying Dr. Williams' pink pills a thorough trial. Go to any dealer and obtain a supply, or send $1.50 for a bottle, $3.00 for 6, to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 98 State Street, Shanghai. The price includes postage.

INDIAN PRINCES.

"AFTER THE WAR" DANGERS IN INDIA.

AN INNOVATION.

The Viceroy, opening the Conference of Ruling Princes and Chiefs on November 3, spoke of the advantage of such a gathering afforded to exchange ideas with the Princes who shared the burden of ruling India.

Lord Chelmsford said the British Empire was at peace in Europe and the East, and tranquillity reigned in India, but the difficulties and dangers of peace were less patent than those of war, and accordingly were difficult to cope with. The new after-war spirit was the greatest danger, he declared, that had ever faced mankind, and the Princes and Chiefs could lend valuable assistance by guarding their States against a lawless and malicious spirit and by refusing to tolerate lying stories as to the motives of the British Government. He counselled the rulers to introduce substantial reforms in the States' building, the ancient edifice which had stood the test of centuries.

The Viceroy announced the Government's intention to create a permanent Chamber of Princes. It was of the highest importance that the question of admission to the Chamber should be dealt with on broad and generous lines, the deciding factor being the status of the particular State, not the personal qualifications of the ruler for the time being. He entirely agreed as to the importance of maintaining the status quo in feudatory relations.

Rulers qualified for admission to the Chamber would be called ruling princes, and the rulers of lesser States Ruling Chiefs. Attendance and voting would be voluntary, the Chamber being a consulting and not an executive body. The interests of absent rulers would be sufficiently safeguarded. Direct transactions in business between the Government of India and the State would not be prejudiced by the institution of the Chamber, each State maintaining the right to direct communication with the Government. The Chamber should not discuss the internal affairs of any State or of any individual ruler.

The Durbar had been invited to report on the failure of the British Government to fulfil treaties and engagements, and 15 States had indicated that they had no complaint to make. In the matter of extra-territorial jurisdiction, telegraph construction, limitation of armaments, coinage, currency, and opium, the policy of the Imperial Government in relation to the States had changed, but there had been no deliberate wish to curtail the powers of the Princes and Chiefs.
The Government of India had acceded to the request of the Durbar to have a voice in the formulation of political practice, with the reservation that, as paramount Power, it retained the right of ultimate decision respecting the principles to be adopted and the extent of their application.

It was the intention of the Government to adopt the proposal for the appointment of a standing committee, which would continue the work of the permanent committee engaged on the codification of political practice, the initiative being restricted absolutely to matters of common concern to the States.

The Maharaja of Gwalior moved a resolution congratulating the Government on the conclusion of peace. The Maharaja of Bikanir, seconding, said the war had brought home the real identity of interest between the British Government and the Indian Princes.

A TRAVELLING EXHIBITION.

JAPANESE MILLIONAIRE'S GREAT SCHEME.

More than a decade ago, a plan for a travelling exhibition was launched, the "Rosseta," a warship captured in the Russo-Japanese War, being fitted out as an exhibition ship and sent round to the various Japanese ports.
Another plan of a similar kind, but on a much larger scale, is reported to be under way, the promoter being a certain Japanese millionaire. His idea is that a steamer of 10,000 tons should be chartered from the Kokusai Kisen Kaisha (International Steamship Company), the interior of the vessel should be completely reconstructed so as to be converted into a sort of exhibition of the various products of Japan, besides having rooms for entertainments and other purposes, and that the ship should be sent on a round-the-world trip. By this means, it is proposed that the world should be made more intimately acquainted with Japanese products. Whenever the exhibition ship makes a call at a foreign port,
the representative citizens of the place are to be invited. It is expected that the scheme will meet with popular enthusiasm, especially will the opportunity be eagerly utilised by the prospective exhibitors, as they will be able to make a tour of the world, while introducing their products to the world, without paying their passage beyond
the charges of the exhibition shelves.
The present programme is that all preparations should be completed by April next. Marquis Okuma or Viscount Kiyoura will be asked to assume the Presidency of the projected novel exhibition.

The China Mail.

NEWS, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, FEB. 2, 1920.

MEN WHO MUST GO.

Today one of our correspondents refers to the additional Convention between France and China, that was signed at Peking on June 20, 1895, and reaffirmed during the World War. The material Article (the fifth) reads in part as follows: "It is understood that China, for the exploitation of its mines in the provinces of Yunnan, Kwangsi, and Kuangtung, will address itself, in the first instance, to French commerce and engineers, otherwise subject to the rules and edicts by the Imperial Government which affects national industry."

Our correspondent calls attention to the fact that about the time when France was in a tight place, her executive fled from Paris to Bordeaux, and Britain giving of her best to save her, some agent of France busied himself about getting that exclusive convention confirmed. Our New Territories march with Kwangtung.

French influence in China does not dwindle in war or in peace, and when that influence seems so definitely to operate against the principle of the Open Door, it becomes a duty to call attention to it. That the co-director-general of the Chinese postal department should be French, and that the Credit Foncier d'Extreme-Orient should be given so much to do with the new post-office buildings referred to, concerns us less than the thought that we are as it were cherishing and supporting in our midst people whose interests are not ours, and who appear to be working against our interests.

The recent appearance of an un-called-for and unwanted committee to consider our economic resources in this Colony has called pointed attention to several well-known and significant facts, that had hitherto not seemed so important. The Chairman of that Committee, Sir Paul Chater, who is also a member of the Executive Council, is generally credited with having had a great deal to do with the development of the economic resources of our New Territories. It is also recognized that in these developments he has had closely associated with him the Rev. Fr. Robert, whose relations with the Credit Foncier d'Extreme Orient we can at present only guess at.

Together these two gentlemen are concerned very closely and very extensively in the business enterprises of this Colony; and we take it the objection we have to this arrangement is plain enough. With such material interests Sir Paul Chater should not have been chairman of that committee, nor even a member of it. He should have been a witness. Moreover, with such interests, he should not have been included in the Executive Council, where it is obvious he must have had inside and prior knowledge of every proposal ever made to exploit our economic resources. With this in view, his further close association in business with the Rev. Fr. Robert, whose interests are so different from British interests, is all the more regrettable. If this Colony's development is to proceed on right lines, and if British trade in China is not to be handicapped, two men (as the political slogan had it) must go. Chater M.G. Robert M.G.

ADVERSARIA.

Japanese sailors on our MUZZLED streets on Saturday wore influenza muzzles—filter pads covering mouth and nostrils. They looked very queer, with the flat attachments round their ears. They looked queer when, in order to smoke, or for comfort, many of them allowed their nosebags to hang like white beards from their chins. Comments were various. It was said by some that the thing was a sort of insult to Hongkong, which has less 'flu than Japan. Others said it was hard lines on the gallant sailors to spoil their shore leave in that way. As for the China Mail, it says nothing.

The furniture shops THE DESIGN in Hongkong have ARGUMENT, a common type of hat stand on which some people hang coats also. A heavy coat pulls the thing over its base being too small for its weight. A man fond of "the argument from design" would point out that such a contrivance could not happen fortuitously, its circle of upward sloping pegs being so obviously designed to carry hats as a Christmas tree carries presents. Yet a tree grows that way, and a chopped down tree, with branches topped, would answer the purpose even better, though the "purpose" of branches is quite other. They were not even "designed" to hang Christmas presents on. Evidently out here it is not yet generally known that Paley's famous argument is no longer tenable. By placing his facts in the light of Evolution, science has deprived his argument of its force, so far as it applies the idea of special contrivance to individual organs such as the eye, etc.

A THOUGHTLESS streets were muddy after last night's rain. Consequently dogs were muddy, too, and not in a condition to be welcomed as lap dogs by well-dressed people. The front seat of a tram this morning was monopolized as to three fourths of it by a nice looking man and a shaggy dog. The dog was stretched upon half the length of it. Part of the remaining fourth was occupied by a blue serge suit which visibly shrank from the muddy dog. At Wanchai, where tram accommodation in the morning is always in excessive demand, there were two more candidates for that front seat. One was a Chinese school girl in sootless pale blue silk, white shoes and stockings. The man made his dog get down, but he left the little lady to wipe the seat with her tiny handkerchief. Her distress was plain. We accuse this gentleman of thoughtlessness as a minimum. The floor is the best place for dogs in any weather. Even to dog-lovers his conduct is an offence, because that sort of thing will cause the street-car company either to stop dogs altogether or to charge them fares.

Our "Gossip" actually had the check to suppose, to pretend, and to say on Saturday that her comments on the quality of this column constituted a "bouquet," which was slangy metaphor for complimentary reference. Incidentally she accused us of egotism. These people are always incurable. The egotism is the Gossip's, for daring to assume a stance even of appreciation. If we may be permitted an analogy that will make plain our relative positions, we may say that the Gossip has put herself in the position of the American private soldier who slapped Marshal Foch on the back on armistice day and told him he was a bully soldier—for a Frenchman. As a matter of cold fact, the feature of this column is not so much its brilliant literary qualities as its profound and subtle thinking. Its acute analysis, its enormous erudition, its lofty and noble character, and its humorous attitude towards life generally. She may think it egotistic of us to mention that we are the brightest, best, and most beautiful thing that ever happened in Hongkong; but if it happens to be true, what else can we say? We cannot even return her any admiration, for we are too busy admiring Ourselves. When we think what Hongkong would be without us, we can only wonder that the Town Band doesn't serenade us every afternoon, and that our statue in shining brass does not adorn the cathedral square. We didn't put "shining brass" in italics, preferring to take a chance and give you credit for some savvy.

A highly esteemed reader submits to us that Mr. Pollock was to blame for giving the Government an opening by proposing "something he must have known was impossible," namely, the resumption of the city areas occupied by the military. What makes it impossible? Our correspondent also thinks Mr. Pollock was wrong in arguing procedure with the Governor, who has "a perfect right to regulate procedure as he thinks fit." All right. We pass our aristocratic fingers across our marble brow, wearily, resignedly, and reflect that all sorts are needed to make a world.

If that were not conspicuous, and truly we would not have in our cable news TRUE, this morning the statement that a man with a brain like Marconi's should believe that he heard messages emanating from another planet, or the Daily Mail's pet "scientist" thinking that they have sufficiently answered that by talking of "solar magnetic disturbances." The dash-dot-dash business wasn't that, and it wasn't from a mere planet. It may have been the angels talking.

When the P. & O. bank P. & O. starts in every port BANK, where the P. & O. and its allies operate, something like an old-established monopoly will feel it. The dollar may drop. On the other hand, it may go higher. Watch the China Mail for further useful information on banking and high finance.

This steamship company P. & O. is on something like COMPANY, velvet, although the usual bonus to deferred stockholders was withheld this year. At the annual meeting on December 10 Lord Inchcape spoke of distributing amongst the deferred stockholders about £200,000 of deferred stock in proportion to their holdings, which, in view of the recent rise in the market value of the stock, ought to be bonus sufficient for any man. The Company controls 427 steamers aggregating a gross tonnage of 2,250,000—its "wings are well spread," said Lord Inchcape. "It is a curious coincidence that as soon as all the free ships came under charter to Government and the rates of freight and passage money were controlled by Government, they were advanced by anything from 19 per cent. to 85 per cent., and it is another coincidence that as soon as the steamers were freed from control in the spring of 1919 the rates were very considerably reduced." If there was any profiteering in freights and rates of passage, the shipowners were not the culprits. Hear, hear. May we look for a further very considerable reduction in passage rates? The applause will be hearty.

HOUSING PROBLEM.

VANCOUVER BUNGALOWS WANTED.

[China Mail Special].

SHANGHAI, Feb. 2.

It is suggested as a solution of the housing problem in Shanghai, that a remedy would be the importation of wooden bungalows from Vancouver. Local climatic conditions are believed to be favourable. One frame-house brought here sixty years ago is still sound. The housing problem is becoming increasingly acute.

A FORKCASTLE DEBATE.

AMERICAN SAILOR AND HIS GUN.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 2.

Nagasaki reports that a state of trouble has occurred aboard the "China." A dispute arose between an American member of the ship's crew and a Chinese seaman regarding silver forming part of the cargo. A general altercation ensued. The American was threatened by the Chinese crew, whereupon the former produced a revolver and fired, without injuring anybody. The American is now detained in custody.

STOLE FROM HIS GRANDMOTHER.

A Chinese was this morning charged before Mr. J. R. Wood with the theft of some gold money and two finger rings, the property of his grandmother. The defendant said he had incurred some gambling debts, and as he was hard pressed by his creditors, he stole the things to pay his debts.

The Police said that the woman went to No. 2 Police Station on Feb. 1 and accused the defendant of stealing the articles. He was sent for, but at first denied all knowledge. Later he took the Police to the house, and from a beam, he produced two pawn tickets relating to the rings. He told the Police that he had changed the gold coins, and that they could not now be recovered. According to what the woman told the Police, this is the third time the defendant had stolen jewellery from her.

His Worship passed sentence of three months' hard labour, and said that the woman would have to pay compensation to the pawnbroker for the return of the jewellery which the defendant had pawned for $10.

HAD A DAGGER.

Before Mr. Wood this morning, a Chinese was charged with the possession of a dagger. He said that a friend asked him to carry it for him. The Police said that a district watchman saw the defendant standing at the junction of Bonham and Pokfulam Roads listening to some strolling musicians. He suspected the defendant, and going up to him, pulled his cap off, and the dagger was found concealed in the peak of the cap. The defendant ran down Po Tak Street, towards the mortuary. The watchman gave chase and caught him.

His Worship told the defendant that he was going to deal severely with persons who carry daggers about the streets of Hongkong. He passed sentence of three months' hard labour.

DISHONEST LITTLE GIRL.

A little girl was this morning charged before Mr. Wood with the theft of five gold rings, three bracelets and $30 in money the property of a woman she and her mother lived with, and the mother was charged with receiving stolen property. The girl pleaded guilty and said that she gave the articles to her mother.

The Police said that there was no evidence against the mother except what the daughter said. She alleged that she gave the jewellery to her mother and the latter pawned them and bought herself three other gold rings with the proceeds. She alleged to have bought the girl a ring with the proceeds.

His Worship said there was no evidence to convict the mother and discharged her. The girl was convicted on her own confession and sentenced to one month's hard labour.

ARMED CHINESE.

Before Mr. Wood on Saturday, the hearing was concluded in the case in which two armed Chinese were charged with the unlawful possession of revolvers and ammunition. The first defendant was further charged with attempting to shoot Sergt. McFall with intent to prevent his lawful arrest. His Worship committed the first defendant to the Criminal Sessions, and reserved decision in the case of the other until Tuesday.

GOLF.

THE GOVERNOR'S SHIELD.

The final of the competition for the Governor's Shield was played off yesterday at Fanling the contestants being Messrs. R. L. Moncreiffe and R. Bruce of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank and Messrs. S. H. Dodwell and A. Ritchie. The Shield went to the first named pair who scored a very convincing even, taking the match at the sixteenth green with the card showing four up and two to play. The handicaps were Moncreiffe and Bruce 19 and Dodwell and Ritchie 3. The latter pair seemed to be right off their game from the start, but this must not be allowed to detract from the merit of their opponent's game as they played very steadily and consistently throughout. Trouble came for Dodwell and Ritchie at the first hole, Ritchie's drive giving Dodwell an awkward tie to negotiate. He sent his shot into some trees. The other side were close to the pin in two, Moncreiffe playing a good second from a useful drive. Dodwell and Ritchie gave up the hole. The next four holes produced nothing of note, the Bank pair finishing them with a lead of two. At the sixth, both tee shots were weak but Dodwell placed a good third shot which should have enabled him and Ritchie to take the hole. Bruce holed out in six, putting his side three up. Both Dodwell and Ritchie seemed weak on the greens so that at the time they were four down. They started off for the tenth well but their luck was right out in the matter of securing decent tees. They had seven shots and then gave the hole up. The next hole was halved, but the Bank pair with five up were in a very strong position. The twelfth was also halved, and the thirteenth went to Dodwell and Ritchie in five. Things here looked a little brighter for them as the next hole also went to them, leaving them three down with four to play. The game, however, only went to the next green, where Moncreiffe holed out at the third shot.

THE LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP. Playing a very consistent game Mrs. Winslow annexed the Ladies' Championship honours, beating Mrs. Maitland by six up and five to play. The winner was out in 46 (her opponent taking 51) and at the turn she was three holes ahead. After the tenth had been halved Mrs. Winslow again went ahead, winning the match at the 13th green.

A COOLIE SCRAMBLE.

A Chinese was this morning charged before Mr. N. L. Smith with the theft of $3.60 from a Chinese woman, and with acting improperly towards her. He pleaded "not guilty."

The complainant said that they were both coolies. Yesterday whilst they were scrambling for baskets at the China, Light and Power Company's godown, the defendant put his arms about her in an objectionable manner. She remonstrated with him and he went away. Later when she discovered that she had lost some money, she suspected him and laid information against him and had him arrested.

The defendant denied the woman's story and said that he was scrambling with the others for baskets, and the complainant bit his finger. He scolded her and all the other women set upon him and he ran away. A male witness gave corroborative evidence.

The Police said that when arrested, the money was not found on the defendant.

His Worship said he did not think the defendant had stolen the woman's money. He bound both parties over to keep the peace for six months in the sum of $50 each.

INDIAN POLICE.

A hawker was this morning charged before Mr. Wood with selling vegetables without a licence, and with assaulting an Indian Lance Sergeant with the intent of preventing his arrest. He pleaded "guilty" to the first charge but denied the alleged assault. He said that the Indian accidentally fell down the steps, and accused him of assault, and then struck him.

The Indian constable said that he was in Kai Ying lane, off Des Voeux Road yesterday, when he saw the defendant selling vegetables, and arrested him. Whilst they were going down the steps in Kai Ying lane, the defendant twisted his finger, and kicked him in the stomach, causing him to fall. Despite the fact that his turban fell off during the struggle, he held on to his man and dragged him down his basket before assaulting witness.

His Worship fined the defendant $4 or seven days on the first charge, and sentenced him to six weeks' hard labour on the other.

A FORTY YEARS' TEST.

CHAMBERLAIN'S Cough Remedy has been curing coughs and colds for the past forty years, and has gained in popularity every year. What better recommendation is required? For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

"THE BETTER 'OLE'."

From to-morrow the Coronet Theatre is showing six reels of mirth under the title of "The Better 'Ole'" which introduces those famous inventions of Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, Old Bill, Bert and Alf. The picture itself is issued by the Welsh Pearson Co., Ltd., and is adapted by George Pearson and T. A. Welsh from the play of the same title by Bairnsfather and Arthur Elliott, which enjoyed great popularity at home. The film is entirely British—something unusual for this Colony of American serials—and in its production, photography and setting it has nothing to fear when compared with the work of other countries. The acting throughout is good and not overdone.

A word of advice to those who contemplate seeing the film—don't look too anxiously for a story. There isn't one, at least one that counts as cinema stories go. The pictures may be described as Bairnsfather's cartoons vivified and elaborated. Old Bill, Bert and Alf are immortal. The creation of the war, they will survive after it. Their irrepressible humour has helped many to carry on through dark days. "The Better 'Ole'" opens with a fairly lengthy prologue, commencing with "The Three Musketeers" who fade away to give place to three other musketeers, not so daintily dressed but more business like. Alf, in addition to his ordinary outfit, has a patent lighter. It is as well to watch this as Alf only gets it to work once and then at a very inconvenient moment. The reason why "this blinkin' war is being fought" is explained by The Poet and after some feet of incidental thereto, namely the arrival of troops from overseas, etc., the picture starts off in real earnest. From that time on there are few, if any, moments when one does not wish to look at the screen. If the acting is funny, there is plenty of merriment to be got from the descriptive lines which are thrown on the screen. Old Bill is shown in his true light—Blunt, and rough maybe, but with a noble sense of duty. Alf is the irresponsible one of the trio. When he is not experimenting with his patent lighter he is butting in on Bert. The last named is the Don Juan. He has a speech which is made to do duty for all his amours—and he uses it pretty often. The scenes of trench life are good. While a good idea is gained of conditions under which the men had to live, much of the sordidness is eliminated by the good humour of the inmates of "The Ritz." Then there is the homecoming, when a heaving vessel leads to the ejaculation "I wish they would 'old this blinkin' war in England." Old Bill finds himself welcomed to "The Better 'Ole'" a "pub." He has often longed for, incidentally he has earned a medal but how he did it had best be seen. It must not be thought the film is a series of burlesque situations. It is far from that and there are some little scenes which will cause as big a catch in the throat as the most "emotional" drama filmed. To-morrow, after the Coronet has opened doors, H. W. Ray can afford to stand outside and shout "If you know of better 'ole go to it." There won't be many who will turn away.

BUT WHY?

A Chinese woman was this morning charged before Mr. Wood with the unlawful possession of a large hammer head, which was found in a fishing basket. She said she picked it up from a rubbish heap on the Fraya in Kowloon, near the spot where she was in the habit of fishing. A Chinese constable said that when he questioned her, she said that the basket contained fish. But as it was unusually heavy, he examined the inside of the basket and found the hammer head. Sergt. Ogg said that on the hammer were the letters M.D.C. Ltd. He had made enquiries but could find no local firm which answers to those initials. He thought the hammer must have come off some ship. The defendant repeated that she picked it up from a rubbish heap. His Worship passed sentence of $10 fine, or, in default, 21 days.

DOCTOR'S CERTIFICATE NEEDED.

Two Chinese youths were this morning charged before Mr. Wood with the unlawful possession of a felt hat in Yau Ma Tei. The first defendant said he picked it up, whilst the other said it was given to him by the first defendant to hold for him. The Police said that when taken to the station, the first defendant said he was one of the audience go to sleep in his seat, and he picked up his hat and walked out of the theatre. The first defendant then said that the hat was given to him by a man to pawn. He was to earn 10 cents for his trouble. His Worship remanded the defendants until to-morrow in order to get a doctor's certificate as to whether or not the defendants are fit to be thrashed.

CORRESPONDENCE.

HONGKONG GENERALLY.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

Dear Mr. Editor.—It is very refreshing to see one of our newspapers coming out of its shell so boldly and fearlessly, and, supporting the ordinary foreign residents on the housing question—by laying out the bare facts, and, attacking those who are the chief cause of these bad conditions prevailing. I much appreciate what you have done, what you are doing, and what you will continue to do.

One is glad to see the Government accepting the Hon. Mr. Pollock's proposal—with slight alterations—towards an honest attempt to do something that may assist matters to a definite conclusion, re cheaper houses, and rents, and which may lead to some scheme whereby the tenant may become his own landlord after a period of years. Such schemes are adopted at home, or elsewhere, and it should be within the scope of the powers that be to formulate an easy working plan in this Colony.

The Government in their first attempt to ameliorate things—by making such an agreement with Humphreys' Estate—are assisting the ordinary Britisher very little (as most likely the rents of the new houses will be high), and, are thereby playing into the hands of the landlords. The houses will be built on expensive land, and will remain the property of the landlords—not the tenants. Will 8 per cent. be all that Humphreys receive on this deal, and, not 18 per cent., including 5 per cent. for office expenses, and 5 per cent. for the general managers—a form of company our local firms love to get hold of, and, on that account, must be a fine milk cow, and one to be much prized? Is the Colony advancing money to Humphreys at 5 per cent. or 6 per cent. per annum and, have the tenants to pay 18 per cent. for the use of the same money in the shape of rents? Why were British residents not invited to participate in this scheme of advancing money to buy land, and build their own houses? What are the conditions of this agreement? Why cannot it be published, if it is all open to the daylight, and unobjectionable in the eyes of the Government? Would Humphreys not put up rents of their own accord, but, that they must do it—to be in line with the dictators of the Colony as far as house rents are concerned?

How much of this Colony is owned by, and, mortgaged to foreign religious corporations? The French Mission is the most objectionable, as it is just a huge octopus, dealing in land, mortgages, houses, companies and mines; acting as architects, exporters, contractors, etc., and, consequently using its powers as a sacred—not a secular—body, to carry out those various functions. In fact, it appears to be a vast, commercial enterprise, more than a truly religious one, sheltering itself under its spiritual wings. Its ramifications even permeate the Postal Department of the Chinese Government, of which a Frenchman is the present foreign head, as their Tientsin branch were the architects, if nothing more, for the new postal buildings and commissioners' residences at Kaifengfu in Honan, and at Tsinanfu in Shantung Provinces, at a cost of between $4,500,000. I send herewith articles on, and sketches of these post offices from The Far Eastern Review of December, 1919, so that you may note how fine they are!

Are the British aware that they have no rights in Yunnan, Kwangsi, and Kwangtung to work together with the Chinese to promote railways and mines in those provinces, unless such as the French turn down, and, do not wish to develop, and, then the poor Britishers may have a look in? Such is the case, according to the V. Article of the Additional Convention between France and China, signed at Peking on June 20, 1895, copy of which is enclosed, so that you may insert it, with this letter, if you think same of sufficient interest. Rumour says this Convention was confirmed in September, 1914, between the Chinese Government and the French Charge d'Affaires at Peking, and, certainly, if this is correct, does not reflect any kindly feelings towards the British in the hearts of the French Government, which had then fled to Bordeaux, and when the heroic British Army was bleeding to death in a successful effort—by the side of the noble and gallant Poles—to stem the Hunnish hordes? The French Charge d'Affaires could not have arranged this delicate, political matter without instructions from his home Government. Just think of it, if the Hongkongites—before the New Territory was leased to us—had ideas to develop either of those railways and mines on the Chinese side of the Lyceum Pass, we could not have done so, if the French objected, and the Chinese Government upheld them! According to that Article, which is still unrepented, there is no "open door," equal opportunity to all foreigners in Kwangtung and South-West China, and, the sooner the British awake from their lethargy, and beseech themselves, the better it will be for them. Our interests, want looking after, as the Japanese have almost the same Article in their infamous Twenty-One Demands on poor China regarding Fukien Province—imposed on a threatened invasion of that land—and signed by

THE BOYCOTT.

In view of the report that pressure has been brought from certain diplomatic quarters to bear upon the Chinese Government for stopping the boycott movement against Japanese goods, the undersigned Organizations deem it advisable to make known the exact situation of the boycott movement and their views about it.

The boycott is not, as is sometimes reported in the Japanese papers, instigated by American and British residents in China; nor by Chinese officials; nor by Chinese students. The Students however energetic they may be, being mere youths and forming only a small percentage of the population, could not have made the movement attain such influence as it already has in such a short time in so large a country.

The boycott is a spontaneous protest of the Chinese people against Japanese aggression and injustice which have marked her dealings with China during the last few years, and which are clearly shown in the Twenty One Demands, in the Shantung case, in the recent Fochow outrage, in her ceaseless efforts of supporting and making use of the Chinese militarists and corrupt politicians to serve her own ends to which China's people deeply resent and strongly object.

As it is a spontaneous movement the boycott spreads rapidly and irresistibly and soon gets the support of the whole nation.

It is reported that Japan, by threats of various kinds, is asking the Chinese Government to stop the movement. That the Chinese Government cannot stop such a movement is obvious to all, for no government on earth can compel its people to buy the goods of another nation which they do not desire. Could the Japanese Government compel its people to buy the goods of another nation against their wishes?

While it is entirely out of the power of the Chinese Government to stop the boycott movement, we must clearly point out that there is only one way open to the Japanese Government if it wants to stop the boycott, and this is within its power to do so; that is to remove the causes of the boycott by reversing her policy of aggression and injustice to that of moderation and fair play, by giving up all pretensions over Tientsin and Shantung, and by ceasing all further support to the corrupt militarists and politicians, whom the Chinese people have repudiated and would have eliminated long ago but for the Japanese support they have. If Japan would do all this, the boycott movement would stop of itself and Japan would win the lasting friendship of the Chinese people. If Japan would not do so, the whole nation is determined to carry out her plan at any cost until justice is accorded her.

We are a peace-loving people and desire to live in harmony and peace with the rest of the world. We realize that the boycott inflicts hardship not only to the nation boycotted, but also to ourselves. We are willing to undergo this hardship in the hope that we and our children may enjoy the blessings of world peace, which the present policy of military aggression on the part of a stronger power threatens to menace, and we are confident that with the cause of right on our side we shall win.

The Chinese, early in 1915, under such a menace. Where are we to expand around Hongkong, when France and Japan bar us from these four provinces? Is Father Robert the "open door" for Hongkong? Let us Mr. Editor, keep at your good work.

WEEK END SPORTS.

FOOTBALL.

HONGKONG SHIELD COMPETITION.

Despite the none too encouraging weather on Saturday, the usual weekend league football matches were played off at Happy Valley. The most interest was evinced in the two matches in connection with the Hongkong Football Shield Competition, but the rain which came on soon after play started had the effect of sending a large crowd of football enthusiasts scurrying home. The matches resulted in the Police and Kowloon qualifying for the second round of the competition by defeating the "Carlisle" and the "Cadmus," respectively.

POLICE, 1; "CARLISLE," 0.

The Police fielded a scratch team on Saturday, and had the satisfaction of winning their first match of the season, by defeating the "Carlisle" team by the only goal of the match. The game was very fast and even from the opening whistle, but the strong wind which was blowing, gave the players much trouble, the ball being often blown to the touch lines. Both ends were visited in quick succession, but although the forwards were very promising at times, scoring was impossible owing to the state of the ground and the unfavourable wind. In fact, all the elements were combined to make good football impossible. At half time the score sheet was blank.

The weather conditions did not improve in the second half, and the players experienced much difficulty in placing the ball where they intended. The sailors did a lot of pressing in this half, and had several good openings, but the Police custodian, a new man, knew his work well, and rushed out to meet the ball every time danger threatened. The Police in turn had a glorious chance of assuming the lead when one of the sailors' backs mis-kicked. Grimmett ran up, but missed the ball by a couple of inches, and it was cleared by the goal. Towards the close of the match when everyone was convinced that a replay would be the result, the unexpected happened. Breaking away in fine style, the Police combined well and were soon in enemy territory. Grimmett was very favourably placed, and on receiving the ball, would not have experienced much difficulty in scoring, but unfortunately, one of the sailors' backs handled the ball within the penalty area. Robinson took the penalty kick which was awarded to the Police and made no mistake. The sailors tried hard to equalize after this, but the determination with which the Police defended, made scoring impossible. While the Police deserved their win, it was hard lines for the sailors to be knocked out of the running of the competition in the first match, through a penalty.

KOWLOON, 3; "CADMUS," 0.

In their match against the "Cadmus," Kowloon showed their superiority right through the match, and secured a very decisive victory, winning by three goals to nil. The team exhibited on Saturday, showed that the Kowloons mean business, and are prepared to give every team in the competition a hard fight for the shield. The sailors assumed the offensive from the start, but they did not keep the ball long, the sound defence of Wheeler and Jackson at back, and of Hyder in goal, proving too much for them. After about five minutes of play, Kowloon began to go on the "war path," but they too experienced much difficulty in scoring, as they had not only to fight against the sturdy defence of the sailors, but the wind as well. After a good spell of midfield play, when the wind had subsided a little, Kowloon attacked, and very soon secured the lead, Rasmussen finding the net at close quarters. Their second goal came some ten minutes later, when one of the sailors' backs misjudged the bounce of the ball, and allowed it to go over his head. Knight broke through and gave the goal a no chance. The last goal of the match came towards the close. The wind had a lot to do with this score.

UNITED SERVICE LEAGUE.

"TAMAR," 4; "MARAZION," 0.

Only one United Services League match was played at the Happy Valley on Saturday. The "Tamar" defeated the "Marazion" to the tune of four goals to nil on the Military ground. "Tamar" was by far the superior team, and had the best of their opponents throughout the match. "Marazion" played up very pluckily after two goals had been registered against them, but when the third goal came, they began to realize the hopelessness of their defeat, and fell off a bit. At least, they made no more attempts to reduce the lead after this, and when the fourth goal came, they took it as if resigned. With the exception of a couple of short spells at the "Tamar's" goal, the "Marazion" men were defending all the time, and it was only on account of the determination with which they kicked and tackled when their citadel was threatened, that they did not meet with a heavier defeat. They had a couple of good openings, but did not convert owing to faulty shooting. For the "Tamar," Graydon, Stone and Taliana combined well, and it was quite a treat to watch them. Graydon and Taliana were responsible for one goal each, while Stone had two to his credit. He came very near doing the "hat trick," but had very hard lines in slipping on the wet ground when about to shoot. The "Tamar" won easily by four goals to nil.

2ND DIVISION LEAGUE.

With the exception of the Club-South China "A" match, there was nothing of much interest in the second division matches played on Saturday. The superior team winning in every case. This was particularly so with the Staff-St. Joseph's and the Navy Reserves-Recreation matches, the Staff winning by eight goals to nil, and the Navy Reserves by six goals to nil. In both these matches, the winning team outplayed their opponents in every branch of the game, and seemed to do what they pleased. In justice to the Portuguese goalie however, it must be said that but for his clever play, "between the sticks," his side would have lost by a round dozen. He could not be blamed for not saving any of the goals which went past him, as they were scored from too close a range for any goalie to stop.

CLUB RESERVES, 3; SOUTH CHINA "A," 0.

While the Club Reserves deserved their victory over the Chinese, three goals to nil, did not represent the real state of affairs. The Club, strictly speaking, won by a solitary goal which came from Boysen a few minutes from the close of the game. The other two goals were gifts from the referee, who blew his whistle, and pointed to the centre of the field, before the ball actually got into the net. While it is not suggested that neither of the goals would have materialized, the referee's anticipation of them was not very favourably received by the spectators. The goalie should have been given a fair chance of even trying to save the shots. As it was, he never lifted a finger to stop the ball when he heard the whistle sounded, naturally thinking that the referee was ruling some one off side. However, the Chinese did not protest, and very sportingly played the whistle. They did their best to reduce the lead, but the wind was against them and they could not find the net. At the final whistle, they retired from the field the most unfortunate losers by three goals to nil.

MARINE COURT.

CAPTAIN AND ENGINEER

AGREES.

In the Marine Court, this morning, before Captain Basil Taylor, R.N., Marine Magistrate, the case in which Robert Grierson, master of the s.s. "Inanimita," charged J. M. Bonner, chief engineer of the same vessel, with disobeying the lawful commands of the master of the vessel, whilst at sea; was withdrawn, the parties having arrived at a settlement.

HOW THE PRINCE "CUT IN."

MEN ROBBED OF PARTNERS AT DANCES.

New York, Nov. 15.
"I have been listening for the past three days to praises of the Prince of Wales sung by all sorts and conditions of men whom he has met during his stay in Washington."

What has impressed me most has been the obvious sincerity of his admirers, whether they are wounded soldiers with whom he conversed at the hospitals, journalists with whom he spent a jolly evening at the Press Club, or society matrons and debutantes. "The attractive thing about the Prince," a veteran diplomat observed to me at one of the receptions, "is that he is so entirely natural."

This quality of naturalness he has manifested on several occasions, but at no time more amusingly than at a dance given last night. The Prince danced indefatigably, but he seemed quite nonplussed when in the midst of one of the numbers an American "cut in" upon him and took his fair partner away. The Prince's looks betrayed his astonishment.

Another American, observing his discomfiture, approached and explained that "cutting in" was an established custom at Washington dances. The young woman rarely fails to desert a partner if another offers himself in the midst of a dance, for their popularity is publicly attested by the number of changes they can make in a single dance. Those, in fact, who have to complete a dance with their original partner deem their fate as ignominious as that of a wallflower.

THE GIRL AND THE FLAG.
The Prince listened to the explanation with obvious relief and impulsively asked: "Can I then 'cut in'?"

"Certainly," was the reply.
The Prince thereupon selected the prettiest girl in the room and "cut in" triumphantly. He continued his campaign of "cutting in" throughout the rest of the evening and danced every round of every dance.

When receiving a body of newspaper representatives on his arrival at Washington one of the audience boldly asked the Prince if he was receiving as many letters from fair admirers in America as he did in Canada. The Prince turned an inquiring eye on one of his aides, who observed that a few scores of such epistles were arriving daily.

One of these epistles came from a Virginian girl, who expressed a keen desire to have the honour of meeting the Prince, adding that she intended to stand with the British flag in her hand at the corner of the road leading to the entrance of George Washington's country home at Mount Vernon. The newspapers to-day describe with much gusto how the Prince yesterday halted his motor-car outside Mount Vernon, and, after alighting, approached an extraordinarily pretty girl who was waving the British flag, and good humouredly bantered her upon her letter.

"At Washington's home he was greeted by a septuagenarian lady who informed him that when she was a child his grandfather had spoken to her. "He kissed me, too," the old lady added as the Prince bowed. — Weekly Dispatch.

CHINESE TELEGRAMS.

(By arrangement with Wah Tsz Yat Po.)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1.
Over 10,000 students, representing 44 schools, assembled at the Tin Mun Gate, Peking, on the snowy morning of the 31st ult. They shouted repeatedly for help to be given to the Tientsin students.

The Police and Military authorities asked the Government to give instructions to deal with the students. The Government told them to keep an eye on the students and to allow no disturbances.

The Cabinet has instructed General Pau Kwai Ting to proceed to Harbin and to take all defensive measures he may think necessary.

Over 5,000 persons, representing 94 public bodies, held a mass meeting at Shanghai. They unanimously resolved to protest against direct negotiation with Japan regarding Shantung; but favoured the Foochow case being settled in accordance with the arrangements as suggested in Peking and Shanghai. After the meeting they marched in rank and "inspected" Japanese goods in the shops.

General Chu Shu Tsang returned to Peking from Mongolia last night. The condition of the five students who received injuries while "inspecting" goods in Tientsin is very critical. It is feared they may die.

About 8,000 students marched along the streets and delivered speeches yesterday. A Japanese ran his motor car through the crowd. No one was hurt.

The Cabinet appoints a committee consisting of seven persons to consider the Shantung case.

Luk Ching Cheung, asked for a month's sick leave. Half a month was granted.

The Peking foreign diplomats are taking a keen interest in the Shantung case and are expressing the opinion that before foreign assistance can be obtained in the matter, China must do something.

Luk Ching Cheung telegraphically informs Dr. Wu Ting Fang that while he remains Minister of Foreign Affairs he is not going to allow the Shantung case to be settled between China and Japan by direct negotiation.

A Chinese was this morning charged before Mr. Wood with the theft from the Taihook Docks, of 28½ lbs of lead, and 12½ lbs of brass wire. He said it was given him by another man, to carry. A Chinese watchman said that when the defendant saw him he ran away. He gave chase and caught the defendant on the seaford. The defendant threw the bag containing the stolen things into the water. He took the defendant to the station, and later fished the bag out of the water, by means of a boat hook. Sentence of six weeks' hard labour was passed.
